"Steal Your Heart"

I never had a chance
Once I put my eyes on you
Too old to play romance
Said nothing that made sense to you
You took me by surprise
Breaking out is hard that's true
It started from inside
No telling what the heart will do
Steal your heart
And you'll never recover
Steal your heart
You won't look to another
Steal your heart
And you will never recover
You had me from the start
Doesn't matter wrong or right
You can't do the things by half
Tomorrow is another night
