I won't be home tonight
I got your news but I feel all right
I'm gonna take this town
I'm gonna turn it upside down
You won't tell me no more lies
Won't need no alibis
You're the one, you're the one who walked out on me
You're the one, you're the one who yelled victory
Things have changed, now that you're gone
Don't you know you're the one?
You're the one, you're the one who'll be history
Don't want your love anymore
Don't wanna hear you knocking on my door
So don't you come back tonight
Everything'll be locked up tight
What's a man supposed to do
I won't be cryin' over you
You're the one, you're the one who walked out on me
You're the one, you're the one who yelled victory
Things have changed, now that you're gone
Don't you know you're the one?
You're the one, you're the one who'll be history
(Guitar Solo)
You won't tell me no more lies, won't need no alibis
You're the one, you're the one who walked out on me
You're the one, you're the one who yelled victory
Things have changed, now that you're gone
Don't you know you're the one?
You're the one, you're the one who'll be history
You're the one, you're the one who'll be history
Don't need to tell you
You're the one, you're the one who'll be history
I won't be cryin' over you
(You're, you're the one)
You're the one, what's a man supposed to do
You're the one, you're the one who'll be history
