You wouldn't believe your eyes
You wouldn't believe your ears
Out of the dawn skies
Suddenly it appeared
I wonder why they're here
Do they understand
Seems they will destroy someone's master plan
Looking across the sea
Looking across the land
Wondering what they'll find
Wondering what's at hand
Breathing in the air feel the falling rain
Getting all prepared for the final day
From out of the crimson air

Suddenly came the fire
Look at the flaming sky
See how the flames grow higher
Alien your day this not to be
All the people say let the world be free
You wouldn't believe your eyes
You wouldn't believe your ears
Into the dawning skies
Suddenly disappeared
Set their course for Mars
Leave the world behind
Tracking through the stars
Finds a different sign
