Taking care of all sorts of things in my way. I'm gonna have to wash all my clothes today. I paid some old bills not seen since I last missed 'em going through my so called system on & on & on.

Coffee and a cigarette..the finest I could ever get.
Just sitting here singing songs about nothing nobody right&wrong;

I passed on to another room where everything looks different I could use some mild assistance now I forgot about what I was gonna do so help me to express I need to settle & confess. There's so many things I'd like to say but mostly I just run away&€¦then suddenly my truth just lies there. I'm living it again, so definite it always wins so forever lost in everything I always do. I used to be so scared about that too.
