Well listen
Someday
You'll hear a rush of wings
So distant
A sound of secret things
But then look there
Up in that rusty sky
Yonder
Sweeps the dragonfly
Soars there
He blocks the setting sun
He'll come
To collect the souls of everyone
Come dragonfly
In from the sky

He floats
With an eerie grace
Giant blue-green sentinal
From some distant time and space
He'll be cold, so cold
And he'll have no regrets
Surely
He'll come to lay this earth to rest
I know one day you'll see him
But please don't ask me why
He'll be
A secret dragonfly
Fly dragonfly
In from the sky

So if you hear that sound
I'm talking 'bout
When you know he's near
And your time's run out
Well don't you feel there's nothin'
That you can say
'Cause he will come and take you to that special place
He'll take you there
He'll take you there
