Landlocked eyes, jealous minds That won't stop for me now One time find, lover's prize That won't stop for me

But it's You that makes the mountains move And sets them in their places, in their places

The day breaks, the night falls And don't I look the same as everyone?

Put their hope in one more kiss That won't stop for me now And hide their wounds inside their hearts And they hardly breathe

But it's You that makes the mountains move And sets them in their places, in their places

The day breaks, the night falls And don't I look the same? But love come and change me So I'm hoping, You and nothing else

Stone set eyes, fixed on life that won't stop

The day breaks, the night falls And don't I look the same? But love come and change me, oh So I'm hoping, You and nothing else

Stone set in You, stone set in You Stone set in You and nothing else
