

Maisie "Your Promise"

Visit "Your Promise" on MotoLyrics.com

It's been some time since you walked into my life
And I felt it before just like the moment you said it's time

If you want it right now, then look into his eyes
If you need it right now, and you hope for something more

You've already won my heart
You've already got this place

I call home
I call home
I pushed you away, but I'm here to stay
I'm coming home
I'm coming home

This place that you've shared has opened up my eyes
And I never ever thought I could feel so alive

If you want it right now, then look into his eyes
If you need it right now, and you hope for something

You've already won my heart
You've already got this place

I call home
I call home
I pushed you away, but I'm here to stay
I'm coming home
I'm coming home

Everyday I'll wait till they put me in the grave
And I'll find my way to you
