The ride on the bus seems so long
And I still got a little ways
I've got time to think about your smile
When will the picture fade?

Your funky cold convenient farewell
I know you never meant me no harm
Never, never no harm
But, your promises they're all missed
And I wipe the tears away with my arm
I guess I must be missing you

Funny Little Valentine
I guess I must be missing you
(I never thought I'd wish I were blind)
I never thought I'd wish I were blind
(Everything reminds)
Everything reminds

And I guess I

Da da down down down
Da da down down down down
Da da down down down

And I'll never understand how your heart was so hard
And I'll never understand how your lips were so soft
And at the very same time
Did I miss my stop some time ago?
This is where I get off
At the end of the line

Funny Little Valentine, yeah
I guess I must be missing you
I never thought I'd wish I were blind
(Everything reminds)
Everything reminds me
I guess I must be missing you
