Runs his one man army to fight authority
They're just laughing at him, he's too blind to see

Thinks he's got one over on the authorities
He can fight the system, you do as you please

They've got nothing on him, no file upon the shelf
Doesn't fool the watcher, he just fools himself

Thinks no one is watching when he commits a crime
Disillusioned freeman, they're watching all the time

They even try to call it treason
Though they watch him all the time
He will never know the reason
They've got control of his life
