I have many brothers
Wonder what I'm doing wrong
If I choose a different mate
Wear my hair to straight
They act just like I don't belong

Love is out of season
All the world is filled with sin
But when money is your gain
Watch out for the pain
Your enemys will be your friends

I'll just cross my heart
For the world to love again
Don't let hate tear us apart
Through it all we made a start
Like the way at night
Lead the children right

People searching everyday of their lives for a new beginning (When will they learn)
To their suprise there's just no end to jealousy
People searching everyday of their lives for a new beginning (When will they learn)
To their suprise there's just no end to jealousy

You have made me suffer
How can you begin to pay
But each time you learn to live
That's when I forgive
I love you more then words can say

Make a true decision
When you see me doing right
And when all has come to pass
Tell it to the mass
Don't be the one who lives in spite

I'll just cross my heart
For the heart to love again
Don't let hate tell us apart
Through it all we made a start

Like the way at night
Lead the children right

People searching everyday their lives for a new beginning (When will they learn)
To their surprise there's just no end to jealousy
People searching everyday their lives for a new beginning (When will they learn)
To their surprise there's just no end to jealousy
