Hush up, an close your eyes
Try to see past every disguise
Hush up, and open your mind
Try to see through a new pair of eyes

Oh and hold my through this dark night
Cold wind blows as we stare at the sky
So hold me close, oh hold me tight
And don't let go no stay by my side

And what we see
Not always clearly
Oh, and what we perceive
Can change in the blink of an eyes

So hush up, an close your eyes
Dream of a new day, under this night sky
Hush up, and open your mind
Try to see through a new pair of eyes

Oh and someone, on this cold dark night
Wishes on a star, eyes closed tight
Wishes for someone, to hold them tight
Prays, that someone, can make things alright
Cause what we see
Not always clearly
Oh, and what we perceive
Can change in the blink of an eyes

OH and I have this dream, for a new world
Where there's love for all, for the rich and the poor
Hand in hand, across the world
For every boy, for every girl

So hush up, an close your eyes
Try to see past to what's on the inside
Hush up, and open your mind
Try to see through a new pair of eyes

Oh hush up, an close your eyes
Try to see, see what's on the inside
Hush up, and oh please open your mind

To possibilities, see through a new pair of eyes
