There are some days, I've been moping around
There are some days, I couldn't make a sound
These are the days, I'm living through
Not imagining what I'd do without you

Days I've been crying
Days I've been moping
Days I've been trying
Days I've been hoping
That you would come back to me

Oh please talk to me
Ignoring me, makes me feel like I'm dead
Please just listen to me
This is what I got to say
There are some things, that I wish I should've said
If you don't care, then I'll swim across the bay

I was one of the broken hearted
And now I'm back right where I started
Once I have a broken heart
It'll be too hard to mend
Now I'm right back at the start
Cuz in the beginning there is never an end

The power of love keeps building
The power of love will fall
Soon it will get stronger
The greatest love of all
The power of love never dies
But stronger it'll become
The weaker it'll say goodbye
And nothing can be undone

The days that are blue
The days filled with sadness
So here's what I gotta do
Nothing but fill it with gladness

A friend once told me
Listen to your heart
And do what it tells you

You just gotta do your part
And think of positive things to do
It'll set you free

The power of love keeps building
The power of love will fall
Soon it will get stronger
The greatest love of all
The power of love never dies
But stronger it'll become
The weaker it'll say goodbye
And nothing can be undone
