I noticed you before you bothered to acknowledge me Your golden ropes hung down the back of your restricting jeans
There was this glow, I did just know before you even turned your head
So many things I could have said
(Bailey, you never took your high beams off of me
And bailey, the tension we conspired was indiscreet
And bailey, why was I so fain to set you free Bailey, that's when I lost you carelessly bailey)
I took the stage before I knew if you were there for me
You let me know as we traded poses laced with chemistry
You winked your eye and left my sight with no glass slipper or a sign
Now you're burning through my mind
(Chorus)
Ah I wanna meet you back under these city lights
If the passage of our stars align Whoah oh oh oh bailey
Bailey, I miss those precious moments that we spent
And bailey, I'm wondering where so many chances went
(Chorus)
Bailey whoah oh oh oh
Bailey la ah ah ah ah
Bailey whoah oh oh oh bailey
Will I ever see you again?
