Our bodies to hand with the Jersey shoreline connecting the tide to the sand that was dry and we both lay entwined, stared at the night clouds overhead, but that was alright 'cause then and there, the wind in your hair, heaven was jealous to mearily look fair against you and all i need now
is this moon to keep light in its desolate skyline for good...
'cause these are the nights that you know when you're
there
you couldn't have planned it much better i swear
and you hope that your senses aren't failing you now but they're slipping away...
(these are the nights...)
so divine, is this happening?
can't i just graze your skin for the rest of our time but time isn't letting this night go on till then and there, the wind in your hair, nothing in this world could keep me from staring at you
and all i need now
is that sun to stay under its glowing horizon for good woah oh oh...
'cause these are the nights that you know when you're
there

and you hope that our senses aren't failing you now and you think to yourself now i could be wrong but i might have just stolen this scene from a song and you know that your senses aren't failing you now... you could get lost in a night like this so empty your thoughts and open your heart to the bliss... and these are the nights that you know when you're
there
you couldn't have planned it much better i swear
and you hope that your senses aren't failing you now...
and you think to yourself, now i could be wrong
but i might have just stolen this scene from a song
and you know that your senses aren't failing you now...

'cause these are the nights, these are the nights, these are the nights, these are the nights...
these are the nights, these are the nights,
these are the nights, these sre the nights...
