Softly baby (You love me)
I Can't say to you but
I Can't say to you but Softly baby, softly baby what do they know when they say I'm too young as I get older and until my life is done I'll be the one who had love that was true they all had nothing, and I have you we'll be together forever in love

together forever in love
together forever in love

I'll be your reason for starting your day you'll be my true love in every way I'll always need you, I promise that now through good and bad as long as this life will allow

together forever in love

my life is for living I'll spend on giving you all that I can my heart and my hand my life with you will shine brighter than gold memories of heaven for when I get old never again will I wanna run away I didn't think that I could ever feel this way
