Translation

When I met you after a long time everything had changed
Just as if you were another person you drew me in

You gather the violent wind and wrap them into a ball
So cold , like a moon made of ice

I can't see myself in your empty eyes
The treads that surround my body are burnt away
I want to embrace you, if only for a while
As if the insane moon were drawing near in the night

I can't even move my body and no longer speak
While I trace your lips with cold fingers you push me down

I can't see anything in your empty eyes
The treads that surround my body are burnt away
I want to embrace you, if only for a while
As if the insane moon were drawing near in the night

I can't see myself in your empty eyes
The treads that surround my body are burnt away
I want to embrace you, if only for a while
