Play softly the notes I know
These days go by so slow
When it seems
You don't have a direction

Don't worry about where I've been Open up and take me in
Because it feels
We have got a connection

Try living without a sound
Watch it all come tumbling down
Babylon
Is calling out to my nation

If you listening come outside
There ain't no reason to run and hide
Because it feels
We got us an obligation

There are times in our life when we know
There are times in our life when we don't
There are times in our life when we must make
The best of the situation

Sweating blood with a shaking hand
Watch fire burn down this land
As the day
Surrenders to degradation

In the middle where the thoughts turn cold
Try to bring to mind what you've been told
As your heart
Compounds that complication

There are times in our life when we know
There are times in our life when we don't
There are times in our life when we must make
The best of the situation

Don't you want to see them all fall down

Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down

Just be careful about what you say
Never know when there might come a day
When your words
Will lead to a confrontation

Then I need to know whose side you're on
Try to figure out what's right and wrong
Then the deed
Will shatter that conversation

There are times in our life when we know
There are times in our life when we don't
There are times in our life when we must make
The best of the situation

There are times in our life when we know
There are times in our life when we don't
There are times in our life when we must make

Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down

Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down
Don't you want to see them all fall down
