Rollin' along Pacific Coast Highway---
Bummin' along to my radio.
Saw a blond hitchin' my way;
Rolled up and said "How far do you wanna go?"
She's been hummin' thumbin' hitchin' and
wishin' For a good day on Pacific Coast Highway.

Looked in at me; and when I could see her,
She seemed to be somebody I ought to know.
Opened the door; sat down beside me.
Then with a roar, we started to roll.
She's been hummin' thumbin' hitchin' and
wishin' For a good day on Pacific Coast Highway.

Looked like a swan, but brown as Chuck Berry---
A summer dawn, yeah, light as a fairy.
We got to town; she said her name was Mary.
She's been hit, she's been whipped,
She's been hummin' she's been bummin'
all her life.
