Born without a hope into a world that's falling apart
You're not safe you're not secure
Can't trust no one, not your mother not your father
Betrayed by all the ones that you love
They said it was for the best how did it come this far?
How come no one even asked you what you felt?
They use your love as a gun making each other bleed
But all you want is peace
You're feeling lonely
But you are not alone

You are not alone
You are not alone
You are not alone
But you're a part of

A part of a damaged generation
We have become our own enemy
It's so insane
This damaged generation
This world creates damage

Although we're wounded we still try to walk the same path
Sex is for fun, sex is for free that's what we think
But think again; maybe that's why
We've built a kingdom of broken vows but is it worth it?
I don't know, but I know that I am tired of
All the damage caused by this disease
All the broken hearts, Lord bring us peace
Show us a way to break the curse
We're lost without You
Lord heal this damage

Lord heal us now
Lord heal us now
Lord heal us now
Heal this damage

Lord heal this damaged generation
We have become our own enemy
It's so insane

This damaged generation

Lord heal your people now
Lord heal this damage
Lord heal your people now
Lord heal this damage
