I've learned enough of you to start to understand
You've learned enough of me to make you sick
Can't agree on much anymore
Can't induct a common leader
Can't listen to five minutes of you speak

Don't let me get in your way
Don't let me interrupt this stay
Please feel free to just remain the same

Chorus:
Maybe it made a difference
Maybe it had it's consequence
But zeal cannot make up for common sense
Maybe it's your decision
Or maybe your mind's already set
We're on this quest it hasn't ended yet

And if I go away again
Will I come back feeling like I did back then?
Or will you finally listen
Would I give in?
Would we get along?

Don't let me get in your way
Please feel free to just remain the same
