people say you're strange but i don't buy a word of it people say stay away from her cause she's a sinking ship
and they say i'm wrong that my brain operates like a burning bridge
i say feed the flames and watch you run away and open up your chest for me and i will build a house and peel apart your weathered scars and i will live there like a mouse (meow meow meow meow)

and people say you're wild you've been christened a feral child you need pornography to help you sleep at night and they said i wrestled around for years with my own demise because you had twin violins playing maladies through your eyes and peel apart your weathered scars and i will build a house and open up your chest for me and i will live there like a mouse

and we're not made for these times and we're not built for speed and we've been made to break down and we've been made to need pack the mules up

shoot the horses
skeleton in my bed
