she says too much when she sleepwalks around her hips are a warm sarcophagus she's so sadistic
when she's sober and oh, self-destructive and sexy when the weather's hot

oh and i want her to know that my heart ain't carved of stone
that my heart is on the road she fences heartbreak across the border and builds a better bird house out of oak (?) she laughs when the main protagonist's family dies and i wouldn't trust her when she drives tonight (?)

that my heart is on the road

...bird shot and left in the desert to die
...bird shot and left in the desert to drive (?)

and i want her to know
that my heart ain't carved of bone
that my heart ain't a bar of soap
that my heart is just as cold what'll i do

what things do i do even though i know we are what should i say

it's already been said better one hundred times before

it's so lovely
when the world's alive
...shoots words out of control (?)
when the worlds collide and the shit spins out of control

the things we do even though we know we are
what should i say
by someone else
