every morning it's the same, bang your head but feel no pain, the world can collide, but we'll struggle by, holding on it has to hurt late again but no one cares, it's all out of sight but we shouldn't mind.

Chorus:

keep it out of mind or you might regret it, keep it out of sight or you

might not get it, keep it out of mind or you might regret it keep it of sight.

time for living, there are no decision as we get much closer, it's almost

been done before, no illusions just something else as we get much closer

it's almost done before your time.

every morning it's the same, someone else is cast away, there's not much to find, but we mustn't cry, holding on to what we've got everyday is not enough, it's all be designed, but we shouldn't mind.

Chorus:

sight or you

it keep it of sight.

we get much closer

it's almost done before your time.

sometimes you lose but you can't seem to think nobody minds, all we can say is I won't give up without a fight, 'cause no one else is gonna do it

alright, but baby don't cry, baby don't cry, come on,
come on it's alright.

we get much closer

it's almost done before your time.
