I lost you long ago along the way
I never thought I'd be here without you
And every time I think about the way
I think maybe I'm better off
Maybe I'm better off...still

Wait until tomorrow and I'll be fine
Wait until tomorrow and you'll see,
You'll see that I'm worth waiting for

I'm ready to just come out and say it
I try to reason with myself
To think of all that life could be
If we could only capture what we've seen

I never thought I'd leave here without you
Now I know that this is the way

I think that maybe I'm better off
Maybe I'm better off...

Wait until tomorrow and I'll be fine
Wait until tomorrow and you'll see;
You'll see that I'm worth waiting for

I'm ready to come out and say it
I try to reason with myself
To think of all that life could be
If we could only capture what we've seen

I'm ready
To come out and say it
I'll come out and say it
To think of all that life could be
If we could only capture what we've seen
