Faithful to the sun moon and stars
I will rest my sword when I'm all forgotten
The duel of the dynamites here
And we welcome it with all we have to offer

You see the day
But when my love I cannot say
My ayes are so tired
My legs they can barely carry me

So here's the time for pain
My love feels like the pouring rain
My love don't last throughout the day
Well I wouldn't mind the lack of change
Anyway

But I'm no longer safe in my home
So I'm leaving you to write my happy story
Don't behave the way that you should
You should leave it to the thugs and all their glory

You hear me say
That I can change in everyway
Your eyes are so tired
Your legs they can barely carry you

So here's the time for pain
My love feels like the pouring rain
My love won't last throughout the day
Well I wouldn't mind the lack of change
Anyway so here's the train
My love feels like the pouring rain
My love won't last throughout the day
Well I wouldn't mind the lack of change
Anyway
