Bertini/Bucci

Livin' my life
I was callin' you Bein' arisen you are lost in the dark... you have a sin
down and deep inside you could have learnt without choosin' to die...
Only this time can change your mind,
only your faith can make you fly, only this time can take you higher,
you have feigned to say your lies with your prayers in your hands
I can live without your eyes only the time can change your mind
I see the twilight in your sigh...

Awaked my life but my flesh was blind
I was the night to be strong in the fight

Snakin' on ground always creepin' down always afraid and fearin' for sundown only when the night was growin' cold I saw the omens turn to fight I see his claws over the light now the blood runs hot in mouth...

Only this time can change your mind
you can't live without your sighs
I lost my life to save my pride
I believe in all my cryin'
Live in all my cryin'...
Live without your sighs only you faith can make you fly
You have feigned to say your lies
I can live without your eyes
I see the twilight in your sigh...
