Bertini/Bucci

There was a day
where many ways
seamed to be just one...
And where my life
ran through the dark for the love of my light Over the hill come alive all the Angels there are many glances Every night it's the time of the Zombies
They are little eyes, of light
And if you want to know where I go when you leave me alone come! where the purple roses are born

and sleeps the child...
They're a little bed of red roses and bright flames of life They've little children of the night Come here! Don't be afraid
This disk...It's a life potion!?
