Down, down in Hollywood Town the lost and found
come to find their way,
Walkin' outside, feelings they hide, putting their pride
through well
Known paces Steppin' on stars and shining on cars passin' by, their Heads are high but their hearts are lowdown draggin'
as they go reachin'
Out to those other faces.
Down, down in Hollywood Town the good time sounds are heard all day but The nighttime's commin', you're on your own, lookin' for a place someone To share with. Waiting in queues to hear the blues, to find a way from The emptiness, to be found inside from those who try, to climb to the Image of the TV good guy.
Stranger I know you, we learned to walk together,
lovers, wondering Whether we really are. I'd like to show you images of sister brother
Standing off from one another but not very far.
Down, down in Hollywood Town, the lost and found
come to find their way,
Walkin' outside, feelings they hide, putting their pride
through well
Known paces. Steppin' on stars and shining on cars passing by, their Heads are high but their hearts are lowdown, draggin'
as they go,
Reachin' out to those other faces.
