Move one inch at a time
Don't make shit rhyme
Would it be easy to repeat the first line?
My mind's not a well
It won't run dry
Just keep drinking water and you'll be alright
This is paralysis
With no time at all to let go

Well don't call me by my full name
All this is temporary
It feels much better to know
That you won't feel a thing
Well don't talk about it
Write it down but
Don't ask for help
And I can't be honest with even myself
Did you ever wish you were somebody else?

Accomplishments are transient.
They pulled me in unremittingly.
Just lasting this long,
I feel relieved to let repetition save me.

Well don't call me by my full name
All this is temporary
It feels much better to know
That you won't feel a thing
Well don't talk about it
Write it down
But don't ask for help
Well I can't be honest with even myself
Did you ever wish you were somebody else?

Move one inch at a time
You'll be just fine
Move one inch at a time
You'll find
They pull me in
But accomplishments are transient
They pull me in

But accomplishments are transient

Well don't call me by my full name

All this is temporary

It feels much better to know

That you won't feel a thing

Well don't talk about it

Write it down

But don't ask for help

I can't be honest with even myself

Did you ever wish you were

Did you ever wish you were

Did you ever wish you were somebody else?
