I spend my time sittin' on the fence with a mate of mine i'm tryin to write the line of the story we believe that everything said is a waste of time cos life is well tried and it bores me yeah, yeah, yeah

in my well paid opinion these things they really don't matter cos from my crystal gaze tonight there shines a light
like dynamite

sittin' on a throne will give a bad back to you livin' on my own was like a flashback to the days when I was lost and lonely say what I said was just a different story all your lies well they still bore me there's nothin wrong with my world these things they really don't matter now i spend my time sittin' on the fence with a mate of mine

i'm tryin to write the line of the story

all those lies meant they still bore me there's nothin wrong in my world
these things they really don't matter

(whistle)

sittin' on a phone will give a bad back to you livin' on my own was like a flashback
all your lies man they still bore me
and these things they really don't matter these things they really don't matter now

don't matter now
don't matter now
don't matter now
they don't matter now
don't matter now
