Wake up there's a new day dawning i think i'll take a little walk for a while i need shades cause the sun is blinding and i can see for miles and miles yeah i can feel the earth beneath me i lie down we are as one they look but they cannot find me i'm off and heading for the sun i'm getting colder
i feel a chill in the air there's a change in the weather we'll come to get
now i can feel the rain
the wind that brings on the change is taking me over the wind that brings on the rain is making me older downtown the moon is shining i'm going to dress it up in style my business everybodys minding oh i plead to get away for a while
i'm getting colder
we'll come to get
oh yeah
the wind that brings on the change
is taking me over
