(You)
You've died inside
(Why?)
Nowhere to hide
(Lost)
Inside an empty room

(All)
Your life is gone
(Time)
Can't heal the wrong
(Now)
It seems you're on your own

You're not alone
Just too far from home
You've traveled so far
But you could be forgiven someday

I've seen night turn to day
Turn to night in the loneliest light
Far away, from the day
Hides the loneliest life

What a waste, all betrayed
'Cause you can't seem to
(Fly)
Fly away from the storm

(Now)
Please understand
(God)
God lent His hand
(You)
As always turned away

(Now)
It's all but lost
(Try)
To bear the cross
(Stay)
I'll chase your fears away

No, now you're not alone
You're too far from home
You traveled too far
And you could be forgiven someday

I've seen night turn to day
Turn to night in the loneliest light
Far away, from the day
Hides the loneliest life

What a waste, all betrayed
'Cause you can't seem to
(Fly)
Fly away from the storm

Turning and burning and yearning
It's all about learning and knowing
We never quite know what it's showing
And anytime it could be taking you down

You feel so high
But someday we'll find you
Alone, alone, alone, alone

Turning and burning and yearning
It's all about learning and knowing
We never quite know what it's showing
And anytime it could be taking you down

What made you fly
Oh, where no one could touch you?

I've seen night turn to day
Turn to night in the loneliest light
Far away, from the day
Hides the loneliest life

What a waste, all betrayed
'Cause you can't seem to
(Fly)
Fly away from the storm
