

Manmade God

"Swallow the Sun"

Visit "Swallow the Sun" on MotoLyrics.com

Been so long since I felt so alone
I felt so uninspired
I put my cheek to the dirt on the floor
And my emotions retired

Why can't you see I never really wanted much from you
I can't believe you were never satisfied with me
I walk these dreams as a broken man
I can't look up, I can't understand
Because I still remember

By and by walk the hands on the wall
Each a pounding reminder
I feel the need to come down on you boy
As my black wave gets higher

Why can't you see I never really wanted much from you
I can't believe you were never satisfied with me
I walk these dreams as a broken man
I can't look up, I can't understand
Because I still remember
Yesterday, oh yesterday (x3)

I was born with one foot in the grave
I can see that the other is coming
And I, I can feel this
And I won't ever ever forget this

Yeah, why can't the love you just walk away
You took me for a fool
Yeah, why can't the love you just walk away
I don't really know

I want you to know this, to know what you've done
You've blown out my candle, you've swallowed my sun
You've drowned all my children, stolen my blood
Poisoned my water, you know what you've done

