Well I've seen your face
And the color of your eyes
And I see the way that you look at me
I was something to despise

And I heard them call you legend
That you played the game so well
Let me just say one more time
I didn't kiss or tell

All the heart's that you've broken
All the damage that you've done
And all the words and promises
Died like snowflakes in the sun

They say you walk with angels
That you talk with god
Oh you are so righteous
Oh you are so holy

All the heart's that you have broken
All the damage that you've done
And all the words and the promises
Died like snowflakes in the sun

They say you walk with angels
That you talk with god
Oh you are so righteous
Oh you are so holy
