(Joey deMaio)

Strike while the iron is hot

Steel is the strongest so say we all

And if we all were not brothers of Metal would we fall?

No

They tried to test our spirit

They tasted steel before we were done

Grinding their bones into the dust of the past

All blown away like a shot from a gun

We cast our lot together four still stand as one

Here we'll remain forever till our kingdoms one

Brothers of Metal

We are fighting with power and steel

Fighting for the Metal Metal that's real

Brothers of Metal will always be there

Standing together with hands in the air

Let us drink to the power drink to the sound

Thunder and Metal are shaking the ground

Drink to your brothers who are never to fall

We're all brothers of Metal here in the hall

Our hearts are filled with Metal and masters we have none

And we will die for Metal, Metal heals my son

Brothers of Metal

We are fighting with power and steel

Fighting for Metal Metal that's real

Brothers of Metal will always be there

Standing together with hands in the air

Let us drink to power drink to the sound

Thunder and Metal are shaking the ground

Drink to your brothers who are never to fall

We are brothers of Metal here in the hall

Brothers of Metal

We are fighting with power and steel

Fighting for Metal Metal that's real

Brothers of Metal will always be there

Standing together with hands in the air
