

Mansions

"Substitute Angel"

Visit "Substitute Angel" on MotoLyrics.com

we took a walk outside we saw the beautiful lights we shared a couple of meals yeah, we laughed like angels well everybody thinks that they're special everybody thinks they count but I was just your substitute angel yeah, I was just your friend for now but I don't mind that your face will fade the time keeps flying by and I barely even know your name
we took a walk outside I saw with your two eyes you said "I'm glad you're here it would've been a nightmare" well I remember when you said I was special I remember when you said I count but I was just your substitute angel I was just your friend for now

but I don't mind that your face will fade the times keep flying by and I barely even know your
name
but we took a walk we walked for miles with kerosene and matches to burn down all these bridges and keep our friendship buried in the ground but oh no no I don't mind that your face will face the time keeps flying by and I barely even know your
name
but no no I don't mind that your face will fade the time keeps flying by and I barely even know your
name
cause you were just my substitute angel yeah, you were just my friend for now

Visit Mansions page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

