"Fear Of Loss"

I don't need your sympathy anymore
You are somehow odd
Like a leech in the sand
I had to know it was a sign
About the fact of moving on
And my weakness you blame
Because you are not my Virgo
And then you blame it on the fear of loss

You can't hide the verbatim
As I have many eyes
Far in the sky
And they peak back to ground

I don't need the truth anymore
Just the one from the maw of the one
An with more pain than a B-syringe
I'll find a way to move on
Your twisted councious will forgive you
But mine cant wait for amnesia
And them you blame it on the fear of loss

You can't hide the verbatim
As I have many eyes
Far in the sky
And they peak back to ground
