When the vaccin expired not everyone had agreed that that mountain on fire shine halo down on me the flatline's not alive and your sins won't deny taking pictures of mine and his rage is now dry

We wrote it
We moan it
we grieve it
We leave it
We have planted him on the backyard
We have pinned him to the black yard

The fungus corruption in his very own limbs
As a foreign abduction Start the pain that we bleed
We all have the same scars
The same white carbon star
He is the late dark black sun
We are all looking tonight

We wrote it
We moan it
We grieve it
We leave it
We have planted him on the backyard
