"Lay This Out"

Throw your consciousness away.
I will save you.
Prepare for the End of Days, we'll make it come true.
All these guards we've put in place to protect you.
Ignore steps along the way - you'll be there soon.
All of you.

(chorus)

Let's lay this out for all to see, this worthless life of apathy.
Passive wastes of energy, disconnected from everything.

You don't need chains to be a slave.
We still own you.
And don't obsess over details... We can always change
the truth.
When our lies have been exposed, you'll be our excuse,
because when we've killed off half the world, then you will have too.

(chorus)

Knuckle-dragging sycophants, flags and crosses in your hands, you'll go down with all the rest... You just don't know it yet.

(chorus)

Let's lay this out for all to see, this bloated life of gluttony.
Passive wastes of energy, disconnected from everything.
