Your a fake
You never stayed by me
I should have let you go a long time ago
Your a fake
You never stayed by me
I never let, never let you go
With all your empty threats
They make you sound so weak
And I couldn't care less
Means nothing to me
With all your empty threats
They make you sound so weak
And I couldn't care less
Means nothing to me
Your a fake
You never stayed by me
I should have let you go a long time ago
Your a fake
You never stayed by me
Never let, never let you go
I know it's not all of your fault
But I feel that it's better this way
I always thought that it was worth it
I know it's not all your fault
But I think that it's better this way
I always thought that it was worth it

With all your empty threats
They make you sound so weak
And I couldn't care less
Means nothing to me
With all your empty threats
They make you sound so weak
And I couldn't care less
Means nothing to me
I know it's not all of your fault
But I feel that it's better this way
I always thought that it was worth it

Your a fake
You never stayed by me
