Une Éternité,
cerclée de poussière,
perce l'aphémère.
Des jours fragiles
et nuits sans défense,
la roue tournera.

The night falls heavy on my body whenever I watch you lying next to me.
Feels like you've gone somewhere without me, lost in a world of dreams where I can never be.

The whispers of a secret lover,
calling you over to the other side.
Another waiting in the shadows,
until the morning breaks the spell of night.

I feel you slipping away,
I feel you slipping away,
I'd really like you to stay,
I feel you slipping away,
so far away.

The things we never tell each other,
all the words unsaid when we're together,
I wish you knew what I was thinking,
I lie here hoping as you keep on dreaming.

I feel you slipping away,
I feel you slipping away,
I'd really like you to stay,
I feel you slipping away.
Why can't you,
why can't you stay?
