Marc Almond - Untitled

=====

(Johnson/Almond)

Out on the street again

Playing with the rain

And a friend is walking away

Life in a strange hotel

And an endless hell

Thinking of things I wanted to say

We over-played the game

And we're playing with pain

And the black inside is turning white with the rain

And the smiles are down

And the feelings are fine

It's hard to make the sun shine

Chorus

Its such a shame

When I'm out in the rain

All the curtains are closed

Its a sad scene I know

I try not to care

That I'm going nowhere

See it slide down the drain

Washed away with the rain

I'm walking in the night

And I feel like a tiger loose

In a room full of fools

And its hurting inside

This feeling of pride

Looking for somewhere to run and hide

Life's on a merry-go-'round

Its the same old sad sound

And its happened again as it happened before

And the smiles are down and the feelings are fine

It's hard to make the sun shine

Repeat chorus

Only the lonely need to be lonely
Learn to be lonely, try to be lonely
Somebody told me only the lonely
Only the lonely need to be lonely
Love to be lonely, try to be lonely
Somebody told me only the lonely I'm such a lonely boy
