I hurt my reputation
And I know the reasons why
In every situation
Someone said good-bye
Still the road is paved with problems
I see the light again
I know the world that I hunger
Is just beyond the bend

I believe that
I will find you
It's written on the wind
I will find you
Where the journey ends
Love will let me in
I will know your face
I'll be home

An' now my summer's over
With winter closing in
I have to run for shelter
Far from where I've been
Oh, the rain becomes a river

And grapes turn into wine
I spend another season
Just waiting for my time

I believe that
I will find you
It's written on the wind
I will find you
Where the journey ends
Love will let me in
I will know your face
I'll be home

I'll be somewhere you are dreaming
Your ship is on its way
And when I'm there beside you
We'll make it worth the wait
