"Holding On To Letting Go"

Here we are, the two of us together
Don't know where we end or where we start
Been through so many stages
But we're on two different pages
Maybe we're just better off apart

CHORUS:

It's so hard to say goodbye
We'll throw down the gloves and in the towel
Just let it ride
It's so hard cause we both know
When the curtain falls and the bloom is off the rose
We're just holding on to letting go

And who knows, will it be for the better?
Maybe it'll be for the worse
Though I try to love you
And I want to make it work
All it does is make me hurt

CHORUS

Did we get enough, or expect too much?
Do we tough it out, or just give up?

CHORUS

We're just holding on
To letting go
