Subliminal nation
Looking for gravitation so now i've quit eating light bulbs and snacks i've had it with those slacks like an astronaut on a sailing boat or eating bagels with tom joad human cowbells, in biological computer cells Raindrops on your head while you're swimming and me grinning by the piers with the deers you know, she's just so right on, she comes on so strong

i wanna hide on a goose bump ride on a sneaker stump breathe through borrowed lungs eat fresh humdrums green with an elephant challenged like an infant infiltrated while integrated usually developing limbs at some distance from the ground i hear simple speed and that feeds all needs while one 72nd of all grey matters, that matters, are flattered and dive

one dimensional things out of chronology world wide trade anthology childlike elevation, waiting for salvation a self made active brilliance, for millions, like ants chasing ants, like cows with hay fever, and maniac weavers the fruits of the roots to become the roots of the fruits the ankle high culture is coming through the woods coming on in loops

press control g for go communication can be broken down into one's and o's
