seems like i've waited a lifetime, to put myself upon the spot, to show the world just what i got, in my soul, but it was never the right time no, to step out on the leap of faith, so i've decided that today, i will go, and so now i'm, on a mission for a dream, i'm gonna wish upon a star, way out there, yes i'll go, no matter how far it may seem, its right here inside my heart, thats were i'll be on a mission for a dream, its been a vision in my mind oh, waiting for my destiny, when it was waiting there for me all a long, i could not find no, what could fill that void in me, until i looked inside to see who i was, and so now i'm on, a mission for a dream, i'm gonna wish upon a star, way out there, yes i'll go, no matter how far it may seem, its right here inside my heart, thats were i'll be, on a mission for a dream, i'm letting go of all my friends, they just got in the way, and now i'm stronger, i forget about all of those years, they just wasted away, i feel the hunger, feeling inside i realized it was me who was blind, but now i see, i see, now i see, so now i'm, on a mission for a dream, i'm gonna wish upon a star, way out there, yes i'll go, no matter how far it may seem, its right here inside my heart, thats were i'll be, on a mission for a dream, on a mission for, on a mission for my dream, i'm on a mission for a dream.
