It's a mystery to me, still cannot believe it
It's a miracle if ever a miracle was
I had wandered far from home
And squandered my freedom
And You came rescued me

It's not logical to me, still cannot conceive it
I'm the prodigal if ever a prodigal was
I disgraced my father's name
And Couldn't face him
Somehow he still cared enough for me
A miracle has spared his love for me

This is the mystery of pardon and forgiveness
It makes no sense for King's to spare the Fool's
Reward
It's a miracle how justice turns to mercy
How one like me is so loved by the Lord

This is a mystery of grace that meets repentance
I've no defense, except my wrongs He has ignored
It's a miracle how justice yields to mercy
How one like me is so loved by the Lord

He has given love divine and my heart received it
There is promise for my life where none was before
I have faith to face each day, and I have found
True hope
Loving grace has set to captive free
His mercy is the song that I now sing

This is the mystery of pardon and forgiveness
It makes no sense for King's to spare the Fool's
Reward
It's a miracle how justice turns to mercy
How one like me is so loved by the Lord

This is a mystery of grace that meets repentance
I've no defense, except my wrongs He has ignored
It's a miracle how justice yields to mercy
How one like me is so loved by the Lord
