If you my dawg let me hear you bark it aint my fault that the thought that hit your heart split you apart
you should've kept your guard Trying to play it hard last night pulled up in a black lex in a yard talking on a rock rock you gonna murder me you got the wrong conspiracy this aint kennedy jealousy get your new way wait and see you want a wish you better I dream a genie yo all i left there was a broken heart and a bunch of lies that i told her and i bounced before the sheets

were warm see I'm the type to love them and leave them for no reason I'll be out the door
i don't catch feelings cuz my heart is cold see I'm that brother that your mother tried to warn you bout
but you just had to try it now you crying on yo mamas couch you put your heart in the fire baby it burned up so heres a little story bout a lesson you should learn from

It aint my fault that I'm a dog
I've been in love before
But me I picked the apple that was rotting to the core
I put the world at her feet she kicked it in the dirt
Now I won't fall in love cuz i end up gettin hurt
It aint my fault that I'm a dog
I've been in love before
But the trust i had in women as been thouroughly destroyed
I put the world at her feeet she kicked it in the dirt
Now I won't fall in love

cause i end up getting hurt

Well first of all it aint my fault that the chick broke your heart if you was hurt you should have told me from the start instead of sending me the flowers all that candy and the gucci shit on the phone for hours gasing me like I'm some goopy bitch

I've been hurt to but that dont mean I'd hurt you never did i burn you or run you like some do now look what we've come to it's young and it's stupid how you blaming all of us for one chick that was rooking

It aint my fault that your a dog

But you you put the apple that was rotting to the core i put the world at your feet

you kicked it in the dirt now I won't show no love cause i'll end up getting hurt it aint my fault that your a dog

I've been in love before

But the trust I have in men has been thouroughly destroyes

I put the world at your feet you kicked it in the dirt now i won't show no love cuz I'll end up getting hurt

I thought you was a angel God sent to me must have be, but the memory of our love burned like a rub burned but a thug learned never put your heart in a flame be a part of the game

play smart in the game but I was young back then dumb back then but nowadays how I plays not the same controlling these games I know it cant do the pain so dont come cry to me

lie to me

these days women just leave you bustin pennyless stuck with no benifits fucking for benjamins suckers like guinea pigs thinking they innocent if I let them in again I may never win again like the Bulls with no Jordon apifiniit so when no love strong enough for me to be steppin in where the booga basement love dont win for no more baby face it

It aint my fault that I'm a dog
I've been in love before
But me I picked the apple that was rotting to the core
I put the world at her feet she kicked it in the dirt
Now I won't fall in love cuz I end up gettin hurt
It aint my fault that I'm a dog
I've been in love before
But the trust I had in women as been thouroughly
destroyed
I put the world at her feeet she kicked it in the dirt
cause I end up getting hurt

It aint my fault that your a dog
I've been in love before
But you you put the apple that was rotting to the core I put the world at your feet
you kicked it in the dirt now I wont show no love cause I'll end up getting hurt
it aint my fault that your a dog
I've been in love before
But the trust I have in men has been thouroughly destroyes
I put the world at your feet you kicked it in the dirt now I won't show no love cuz I'll end up getting hurt
