You stroll along
Retrace your footsteps
You see a child
He's left alone

Alone to stay
Alone with no one there to play
You recall your childhood
Still lonesome today

All he wanted was a friend
With someone he could talk to
Relate to

You attempt to reach
But then you look away
Nothing's accomplished
The two shadows fade

What to grow as?
What will you grow up to become?
Where are these answers?
Oh, they'll come along

All he wanted was a friend
With someone he could talk to
Relate to

You wonder why you're still alone
You cry all night on your roof top
What are you hiding?
Is it something I must know?

All he wanted was a friend
With someone he could talk to
Relate to, relate to, relate to

All he wanted was a friend
With someone he could talk to
Relate to
