In the air invisible
Like angels in the mist
I feel your love surrounding me
Like rain on fingertips

I wait, I bend
Collecting the signals you send
And dream of when

When you will come for me
And joy will break my heart
And we will finally be
No longer worlds apart

Love so beautiful
Like a sacred souvenir
It keeps me longing for
The day when you'll be here

These tears, they pour
In pools on my bedroom floor
While I wait for

When you will come for me
And joy will break my heart
And we will finally be
No longer worlds apart

And when you call my name
I know my true life is gonna start
When we will finally be
No longer worlds apart

When that day comes
And you're standing inches away
I'll reach out my arms
And fall into love's embrace

And when you call my name
I know my true life is gonna start
When we will finally be
No longer, no longer worlds apart

When you'll come for me
And joy will break my heart
And we will finally be
No longer, no longer worlds apart

And when you call my name
True life starts
Finally be
Worlds apart
